

Dear FCC,

SAVI Technologies is requesting the use of radio frequencies that are already allocated to licensed radio service for the purpose of emergency RF communications and experimentation. The specifications for use of their RFID devices would cause much interference to licensed use of the frequencies in question.

SAVI Technologies has made a request for special arrangements for their device which appropriately falls into the category of Part 15 "Device Regulations." The additional frequencies that they are requesting use of are not necessary because adequate spectrum has already been set aside for items defined as an "industrial/medical device." Consequently, if 01-278 is approved it will cause an indirect amendment to Part 15 Device Regulations regarding RFID's that goes against your own regulations.

A reply would be appreciated.

Sincerely,
Sky A. Borgenhagen
